How long we keep your personal data

We will keep your data for as long as it is reasonably necessary. It will depend on a number of factors. The criteria we may use to determine the retention period for certain categories of data includes:

- whether there is any ongoing contractual, legal or financial claim that relates to your relationship with us; and
- whether any applicable law, statute, or regulation allows for a specific retention period; and
- what the expectation for retention was at the time the data was provided.

Legal requirements

We need to collect certain types of data for compliance with legal requirements relating to our anti-money laundering and know your customer obligations. If this data is not provided we may not be able to progress our dealings with you.

Your personal data may also be processed if it is necessary on reasonable request by a law enforcement or regulatory authority, body or agency or in the defence of a legal claim. We will not delete personal data if relevant to an investigation or a dispute. It will continue to be stored until those issues are fully resolved.

Information we share

There are certain circumstances where we may transfer your personal data to service providers and to other parties.

- Third parties may process your personal data, for example we are governed by a board of directors (all of whom are non-executive) who have delegated the Secretarial and Administrative functions to Maitland Administration (Guernsey) Limited.
- We also have important relationships with third parties such as Computershare Investor Services (Guernsey) Limited who provide registrar services to us and therefore maintain our share register.

Our service providers will be required to meet our standards on processing data and security. The data we provide them, including your data, will only be provided in connection with the performance of their function.

- Your personal data may be transferred to other third party organisations in certain scenarios:

PRIVACY NOTICE

- If we're discussing, merging or selling or transferring part or all of our business – the data may be transferred to prospective counterparties under suitable terms as to confidentiality;
- If we're required to by law, or under any regulatory code or practice we follow, or if we are asked by any public or regulatory authority – for example the Police;
- If we are defending a legal claim your data may be transferred as required in connection with defending such claim.

Your personal data may also be shared if it is made anonymous and aggregated, as in such circumstances the data will cease to be personal data.

Where your information will be held

When we share your data your data may be transferred outside the European Economic Area.

We will only transfer data to jurisdictions outside the scope of the European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) where the appropriate safeguards set out in the GDPR are in place.

We are happy to provide you with copies of the regulator-approved SCCs or company rules, which you can request by contacting us as detailed in the Contact Us section.

Your Rights

You may have – in accordance with applicable data protection laws – the following rights when it comes to our handling of your personal data. These rights will only apply in certain circumstances. They will generally not be available if there are outstanding contracts between us, if we are required by law to keep the information or if the information is relevant to a legal dispute.

- Right of access – you may have the right to request a copy of the personal data we have about you and to request supporting data explaining how the personal data is used.
- Right of rectification – you may have the right to request that we rectify inaccurate personal data about you.
- Right of erasure – you may have the right to request that we erase personal data about you.
- Right to restrict processing – in some situations, you may have the right to request that we do not use the personal data you have provided (e.g. if you believe it to be inaccurate).
- Right to data portability – you may have the right to receive certain of your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to transmit such data to another controller.
- Right to withdraw consent – where we process your personal data based on consent (including direct marketing consents), you have the right to withdraw consent at any time. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of the processing based on consent before its withdrawal. Furthermore, even in case of a withdrawal we may continue to use your personal data as permitted or required by law.

Right to object: In addition, where we are processing your personal data based on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) you may challenge this. However, we may be entitled to continue processing your data based on our legitimate interests or another legal basis or where this is relevant to legal claims.

Please get in touch using the contact details in the Contact Us section if you would like to exercise any of these rights.

PRIVACY NOTICE

Security

We ensure that we or any third party handling your data on our behalf have implemented reasonable technical and organisational measures designed to secure your personal data from accidental loss and unauthorised access, use, alteration or disclosure.
