WHAT IS THIS PRODUCT?

Type

This product is a Subscription Share which offers the right (but not the obligation) to buy additional Ordinary Shares at a future date(s) for a limited period, after which they may have no residual value.

Objectives

To provide holders with the opportunity to exchange their Subscription Shares for Ordinary Shares in Geiger Counter Limited for a fixed price.

The objective of the Ordinary Shares is to provide investors with the potential for capital growth through investment primarily in the securities of companies involved in the exploration, development and production of energy, predominantly within the uranium industry.

Subscription Rights may be exercised on an annual basis with the exercise taking place on the last business day in November in 2020.

The exercise price will be increased annually to 28.55p on 30 November 2020

Subscription Shares and their associated rights will lapse on 30 November 2020 following their final exercise and may do so with no residual value. Additional payment will be required to exercise the Shares at the appropriate date.

The Subscription Shares of the Company are bought and sold via markets. Typically, at any given time on any given day, the price you pay for a share will be higher than the price at which you could sell it.

The Subscription Shares of the Company are intended for investors who are able to make an informed investment decision based on this document and the most recent Annual and Half Yearly Financial Reports together with the Listing Document in respect of the Subscription Shares. These documents are available at the Company’s website at ncim.co.uk. Investors should understand that there is no capital guarantee or protection (100 per cent of capital is at risk).

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

KEY INVESTOR INFORMATION:
GEIGER COUNTER LIMITED

This table below shows the money you could get back over the period from 31 December 2018 to 30 November 2020, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £10,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

The graph shows how the return on your investment depends on the Share Price of the underlying Ordinary Share. This graph illustrates how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the pay-off graphs of other derivatives. The graph presented gives a range of possible outcomes and is not an exact indication of what you might get back. What you get will vary depending on how the underlying will develop. For each value of the underlying, the graph shows what the profit or loss of the product would be. The horizontal axis shows the various possible prices of the underlying value on the expiry date and the vertical axis shows profit or loss. Buying this product means that you think the underlying price will increase. Your maximum loss would be that you will lose all your investment (premium paid)

KEY INVESTOR INFORMATION: GEIGER COUNTER LIMITED

Legal Notice

All Investors should ensure that they have received and read the Prior-Investment Disclosure which is available from CQS at clientservice@cqsm.com. In common with most investment companies, the Company may borrow to finance further investment (gearing). The use of gearing is likely to lead to volatility in the Net Asset Value (NAV) meaning that a relatively small movement, down or up, in the value of a Company's assets will result in a magnified movement, in the same direction, of that NAV. The value of shares and the income from them can go down as well as up and you may get back less than the amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to the future. Exposure to a single country market increases potential volatility. There is no guarantee that the market price of shares in the Company will fully reflect their underlying Net Asset Value. As with all stock exchange investments, the value of investment company shares purchased will immediately fall by the difference between the buying and selling prices, the bid-offer spread. The NAV stated is calculated based on the bid prices of the portfolio holdings by the Administrator. An investment company should be considered only as part of a balanced portfolio. Under no circumstances should this information be considered as an offer or solicitation to deal in investments.
