NAV and share price performance

I am pleased to report on a good six months for your Company, with the period ended 31 December 2023 covered by this interim report seeing positive total returns from both the NAV and share price at 9.42% and 11.26% respectively. The shares of the Company have continued to trade at a premium to their NAV and as at 31 December 2023, the premium stood at 3.58%.

Stock markets were stronger into the year-end as markets shrugged off geo-political worries arising from the conflicts in Ukraine and Israel/Gaza and, with inflation continuing to ease, focused on potential interest rate cuts. The Sterling debt market also responded to this environment and the 10-year gilt yield came down sharply from its August 2023 highs, reaching 3.50% at year-end, a number which does suggest interest rates falling at some stage in 2024. Ian "Franco" Francis, your investment manager, discusses the six months in more detail in his review on page 4.

Earnings and dividends

The Company's revenue earnings per share were 2.18p for the six months, compared to a figure of 2.27p earned in the same period last year. As explained in the Investment Manager's Review, this modest decline is a result of timing of dividends received. Otherwise, the revenue account is fairly stable as portfolio income has continued to benefit from higher interest rates.

The Company has declared two dividends of 1.00p so far in this financial period, maintaining the level of those declared in the same period last year. As things stand, the Board expects to follow the same pattern of dividend payments as declared last year and maintain or slightly increase the total level of dividends for the year. Based on an annual dividend rate of 4.49p and a share price of 49.80p at the time of writing, this represents a dividend yield of 9.02%. The Board anticipates that revenue earnings per share for the whole year will cover the total dividend. The Board is very focused on dividend payments which we know are important to our Shareholders and since its launch in 2007, the level of dividends paid by the Company has increased every year.

Gearing

The Company has a £45,000,000 loan facility with The Bank of Nova Scotia ("Scotiabank") which renewed in December 2023 for a further 12-month period. Of this facility, £35,000,000 was drawn down as at 31 December 2023 and the Company had an effective gearing rate of 12.76%.

Share issuance

The investment company sector has come under pressure in 2023 and most companies are trading at a discount to their NAV, but your Company is one of the few that has continued to trade at a premium. Taking advantage of the ability to issue new shares at a premium, £4,014,000 was raised from new and existing shareholders during the six months under review, with 8,250,000 ordinary shares issued from the block listing facility. A further £2,007,000 has been raised since 31 December 2023. Not many investment companies are currently in a position to be able to issue shares and this is another indicator of the attraction of your Company.

Parent company

During the period under review, CQS (UK) LLP, your Company's Investment Manager, has advised that it is being acquired by Manulife Investment Management and the transaction is expected to close in early 2024. The Board's understanding is that this will not have an impact on your Company for the time being and we will continue to request and monitor information on any changes that do happen.

Outlook

With the peak in UK inflation and interest rates almost certainly behind us for now, the macro environment for fixed interest investments looks a little calmer than in recent years. Nevertheless, the economy is not in robust health so ongoing scrutiny of issuers' balance sheets remains vital for the high yield bonds which make up the majority of your Company's investments. The turbulent geopolitical backdrop also warrants attention, as do a number of significant elections in 2024, with the resurgence of Donald Trump in the USA and a swing to a Labour government in the UK both looking like real possibilities. Plenty for your investment manager 'Franco' to consider. As always, the broad diversification of the Company's investments provides reassurance and the Board is confident we will continue to be able to pay attractive dividends to shareholders.

4 Investment Manager's Review

Market and economic review

Away from the geopolitical issues that have dominated the headlines, the six-month period from 30 June 2023 to 31 December 2023 was reasonably positive for the high yield market in which the Company invests. Interest rates appear to have reached their peak and inflation in the UK and other western economies has fallen substantially from the double-digit figures seen earlier in 2023. The UK has entered a technical recession with the economy contracting by 0.40% in the second half of 2023. We believe that the risk of a severe recession in the UK has receded slightly.

At the end of June 2023, the UK Consumer Price Index reading was an annual increase of 6.80% and by the end of December 2023, this had fallen to 4.00%. There was a similar pattern in other major economies such as the United States ("US") and the European Union ("EU"). Interest rates have not increased in major economies for several months and although there are market commentators calling for interest rates to fall, we believe that central banks will be fairly cautious and will wait to see where inflation settles before reducing rates.

UK 10-year gilts reached a 15 year high at 4.75% in August 2023 over worries about a severe recession and the continuing effects of higher interest rates. As the year progressed, the 10-year gilt yield fell substantially and ended the year at 3.54%.

In the US, the economy appears to be proving more resilient and the service sector has been a positive contributor to the US economy. US inflation is around 2.00% and all eyes are on the timing of a first interest rate cut. The EU is not in such a good position, as manufacturing is contracting substantially in Germany and France, but any lowering of interest rates, as a policy response, could lead to inflation rising again.

For your Company, we had a good outcome with the underlying NAV rising from 45.83p at the end of June 2023 to 47.50p at the end of December 2023. With the inclusion of dividends paid, the total net asset return for the six months ended 31 December 2023 was 9.42%.

Portfolio review

During the six months ended 31 December 2023, we were able to continue to refinance existing bond holdings at higher coupon rates than we have done previously. Good examples of this are Co-operative 9.5% 2029, which was redeemed and replaced with Co-operative 11.25% 2034, and Azerion 7.25% 2024 which was redeemed and replaced with Azerion 10.625% 2026. A new entry into the Top 10 is TVL Finance, which is part of the hotel group, Travelodge and we have been buying the 10.25% 2028. The portfolio continues to be well diversified across a range of sectors as well as interest rates with a good proportion in floating rate notes. The non-sterling exposure was 28.31% of the portfolio as at 31 December 2023, out of which 15.55% was the US Dollar.

For the six months ended 31 December 2023, the revenue account earnings were 2.18p compared to 2.27p for the same period last year. Earnings per ordinary share were slightly lower than last year mainly because the half yearly dividend and repayment of historic arrears from the REA preference shares we hold, were deferred from December 2023 to April 2024. In my regular discussions with Shareholders, revenue and dividends are topics of crucial importance and the ability of any portfolio company to pay its coupon or expected dividend is one of the major indicators we follow.

Outlook

With the UK going into recession in the second half of 2023 and inflation still sticky, the Bank of England faces a dilemma of when to reduce interest rates. This is now more likely to be slightly sooner than the more pessimistic forecasts of late 2024 and could feasibly happen at the end of the second quarter. In Europe, the economy overall is weak and add this to European Parliament elections in early June, it is possible that rates here too may start the downward trend earlier rather than later. Geopolitics with the wars in Ukraine and Gaza, and the Houti rebels' attacks on shipping will also impact global markets and supply chains with shipping being rerouted around the Cape rather than through the Suez canal. Overall, a lot going on which might impact markets, but the net result is probably less negative for the Western economies than in previous years.

Fair Value Hierarchy

IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement requires an analysis of investments valued at fair value based on the reliability and significance of information used to measure their fair value. The Level is determined by the lowest (that is the least reliable or independently observable) level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement for the individual investment in its entirety as follows:

- Level 1 – investments quoted in an active market;
- Level 2 – investments whose fair value is based directly on observable current market prices or indirectly being derived from market prices;
- Level 3 – investments whose fair value is determined using a valuation technique based on assumptions that are not supported by observable current market prices or based on observable market data.

Transfers in and out of the levels are deemed to have occurred at the start of the reporting period.

Investments valued using stock market active prices are disclosed as Level 1 and this is the case for the quoted equity investments that the Company holds. Securities in Level 2 are priced using evaluated prices from a third party vendor, together with a price comparison made to evaluated secondary and tertiary third party sources, including broker quotes and benchmarks. As a result, these investments are disclosed as Level 2 - recognising that the fair values of these investments are not as visible as quoted investments and their higher inherent pricing risk.

Investments included as Level 3 are priced by the investment manager using a valuation technique reviewed by the Board taking into account, where appropriate, latest dealing prices, broker statements, valuation information and other relevant factors.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss reconciliation - Level 3

IFRS 13 requires disclosure, by class of financial instrument, if the effect of changing one or more inputs to reasonably possible alternative assumptions would result in a significant change to the fair value measurement. The information used in determination of the fair value of Level 3 investments is chosen with reference to the specific underlying circumstances and position of the investee company. On that basis, the Board believes that the impact of changing one or more of the inputs to reasonably possible alternative assumptions would not change the fair value significantly. The following shows a reconciliation from the beginning to the end of the period for fair value measurements in Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.
